

CHSTM Seminar Series Autumn 2008

30 September 2008

Ayesha Nathoo, University of Cambridge

"Everything a Reporter Could Wish for" : Heart Transplants and the Media in 1968.

7 October 2008

Jean Walton, University of Rhode Island

The Peristaltic Subject.

Thursday 16 October 2008*

Geertje Boschma, University of British Columbia.

Deinstitutionalization and community mental health nursing: A Canadian perspective

*joint seminar with the School of Midwifery, Nursing and Social Work

21 October 2008

Roger Smith, Institute for the History of Science and associate at the Institute of Psychology, Russian Academy of Sciences

Where does a claim for the necessity of historical knowledge lead in the human sciences?

28 October 2008

Thomas Uebel, University of Manchester

The Left Vienna Circle.

4 November 2008

Matthew Thomson, University of Warwick.

Psychology, Well-Being, and the Landscape of the Child in PostWar Britain

18 November 2008

Harry Oosterhuis, University of Maastricht

The Politics of Health and Citizenship: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives

25 November 2008

Iwan Rhys Morus, University of Aberystwyth

"Tis like a camel, or like a whale, or like what you please" : Revisiting Radical Electricity.

2 December 2008

Bronwyn Parry, Queen Mary University

TBA

9 December 2008

Caroline Petit, University of Manchester

TBA