

CHSTM Seminar Series, Spring 2008-2009

For further information about this programme of events contact,

- Duncan Wilson, Email: Duncan.Wilson@manchester.ac.uk, Tel: +44 (0)161 275 0561

Tuesday, 03 February 2009

- Der neue Trend - no smoking, please!': creating the non-smoker in post-war West Germany
Rosemary Elliot, University of Glasgow

Tuesday, 10 February 2009

- Reflections on "Objectivity" and its Critics, One Year After
Lorraine Daston, Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin

Tuesday, 17 February 2009

- There is Another Smell of a Nobody': William Golding, the New People and the Other
Charlotte Sleigh

Tuesday, 24 February 2009

- Imagining Nuclear War: Discourses of Destruction and Survival in 1950s Britain
Mathew Grant, University of Sheffield

Tuesday, 03 March 2009

- Science Magazines and Serials in Early Twentieth Century Britain
Peter Bowler, Queen's University, Belfast

Tuesday, 17 March 2009

- Counting Sheep in the English Lake District: Rare Breeds, Local Knowledge, and Environmental History
Harriet Ritvo, Visiting Simon Fellow, MIT, USA

Tuesday, 21 April 2009

- Sketches of Another Future: Cybernetics in Britain, 1940-2000
Andy Pickering, University of Exeter

Tuesday, 28 April 2009

- An Anti-History of Medical Ethics: From the Enlightenment to the Era of Neuroscience
Roger Cooter, UCL

Tuesday, 12 May 2009

- Pedigree Chums: Breeding and Feeding in the Making of the Modern Dog
Neil Pemberton and Michael Worboys, University of Manchester

Tuesday, 26 May 2009

- Doctors, Diets and Nutrition
Susan Lederer, University of Wisconsin – Madison

Tuesday, 02 June 2009

- British Science's 'New Jerusalem'? Government, the Royal Society and Postwar Science
Jeff Hughes, University of Manchester